Getting ready for Catena-X

Ready for Catena-X

Many organizations talk about data spaces. But what happens when companies use them productively at scale? That's exactly what the International Data Spaces Association is exploring with the Data Space Accelerator, using Catena-X as the reference ecosystem.

The key point: This is not an observational study. It combines real-world implementation with empirical research.

What does that mean, exactly?

Your first data exchange starts here.

- 01 Start with a simple use case that enables meaningful participation in Catena-X.
- 02 No prior data space experience is required. Get optional support from certified partners.
- 03 Receive a remuneration up to 30.000 €* based on verified results.

*For participants based outside Germany, the remuneration is recalculated using a purchasing power index.
Entire process must be completed in 2026.
